

African Management Development Institutes' Network

EXCO meeting

27th April 2025 at 18h (17h GMT)

North African Region activities report

- Participation of Professor Mohamed HAMMOUMI of the National Higher School of Administration in the review and alignment of the AFGOV programme according to the following table:

Modules		AMDIN Members: Name subject matter expert & Institution
1	Introduction to governance in Africa	Pr. Mohamed HAMMOUMI (ENSA-Morocco)
2	Research on governance
3	Governance and regional integration in Africa
4	Governance and democracy in Africa
5	The influence of global economy on the state
6	Leadership development for governance in Africa
7	New public service approaches promoting governance	Pr. Mohamed HAMMOUMI (ENSA-Morocco)
8	Comparative analysis of governance at country level	Pr. Mohamed HAMMOUMI (ENSA-Morocco)
9	Strategic planning and management for good governance	Pr. Mohamed HAMMOUMI (ENSA-Morocco)
10	Transformative governance in Africa	Pr. Mohamed HAMMOUMI (ENSA-Morocco)

- Participation in the publication of articles related to public administration in the North African region in the AMDIN journal.

- Invitation of the National School of Journalism and Magistracy (ENAJM) of the Republic of Mauritania to join the AMDIN Network: This action is still pending because of the recent appointment of a new Director General of ENAJM.

- Formalizing of partnership projects by the signature of Memorandums of Understanding with some Management Development Institutes members of the AMDIN's network:

- > National Institute of Public Administration of Zambia (NIPA)
- > Ghana Institute of Management and Public Administration (GIMPA)
- > Kenya School of Government (KSG)
- > National School of Government of South Africa (NSG)

- Payment of Morocco's annual membership fees to the AMDIN network for year 2025

- Continued commitment of the National Higher School of Administration of Morocco to duly play its role as vice-president representing the North African region and its willingness to contribute to the development of the AMDIN network.